Coastal Speaker Series to Explain The Coastal Area Management Act

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH - Come learn about North Carolina's state program to protect and manage coastal resources. In 1972 the Coastal Area Management Act (CAMA) was enacted to protect, conserve and manage North Carolina's coastal resources through an integrated program of planning, permitting, education and research. Join guest speaker Rob Mairs, with the North Carolina Division of Coastal Management, as he explains this important state program and its successes and fallbacks over the years.
