

North Carolina
Coastal Federation
Working Together for a Healthy Coast

Message from the Executive Director

We're in uncharted waters here at the North Carolina Coastal Federation as we respond to the novel coronavirus. Meetings and events are cancelled or postponed indefinitely, and telecommunications is now the way we must work. This public health emergency creates unexpected challenges for our day-to-day operations that normally focus on people "working together for a healthy coast."

Our top priority is to act responsibly to help protect and restore the health and well-being of all our communities where we live and work, and of our own staff, members and volunteers. Keeping people healthy and secure is our top priority. For that reason, we have closed our offices to the public and many of our staff will now work from home. Please feel free to contact our staff via email or by leaving messages for them on our main phone number (252-393-8185).

Our staff continues to carry-out the work we do as an organization. We firmly believe that maintaining a healthy and productive natural environment is essential to the long-term well-being of everyone who lives, works and visits of coast.

Thank you for your patience and support as we navigate through these turbulent times.

Todd Miller

Executive Director
